

ENERGY PROCUREMENT

Negotiating an energy supply contract is a complex matter. UPL's procurement solutions make it simple.

Securing the best possible deal in the energy market is about much more than driving a hard bargain. It is essential to thoroughly understand the dynamics operating within the market to identify when conditions are favourable for securing the best contract.

UPL's energy procurement service is managed by a dedicated team of industry professionals. With more than 12 years' experience in our specialist field, our success is built on an unparalleled knowledge of all aspects of the utility industry.

At UPL, we endeavour to secure the most cost-effective contracts for our clients in an increasingly volatile energy market.

ENERGY PROCUREMENT AT UPL

- Our profound knowledge of movements and drivers in the energy market guarantees that our clients always get the best deal available.
- Our open tender process provides vital flexibility, ensuring that our clients receive exceptional value at all times.
- Our network of contacts within the energy supply markets not only provides a direct link to key industry figures, but also enhances our negotiating power.
- We offer a comprehensive range of reporting and market analysis services. From daily market updates to personalised monthly reports, we make sure that our clients are fully aware of the latest developments within the energy industry.
- We use a bespoke range of energy brokerage software to effectively manage the tender process.
- We review and assess energy suppliers' customer service performance to ensure that our clients receive the best service available.
- We also offer comprehensive advice on the procurement of energy from renewable sources.